

Bytro Labs announces new browser game „Thirty Kingdoms“

Today, online games developer Bytro Labs announced the newest addition to its lineup: “Thirty Kingdoms”. In Thirty Kingdoms players will dive into the medieval world of noble Houses and thrive for the reign over the Midlands.

Having taken the place of a noble Lord or Lady, the players find themselves on the Midlands, a unique 30-player map, offering geographical bonuses to the various medieval units. Eager to develop a flourishing kingdom, they have to form alliances and conquer uncivilized provinces. Thus, they will expand their influence and enhance their chances to become the true King of the Midlands. In the course of the game, they will also have to make a tough decision. Which special unit will they choose: Mighty mages, the brutal trolls or wild dragons?

From this day forward, future lords can sign up for Thirty Kingdoms at www.thirtykingdoms.com and become a part of the medieval world of this new strategic browser game.
